

Listening Guide- Part 1 of the American Document Series

Patrick Henry- "Give Me Liberty or Give me Death"

1. The tide of migration from Europe to North America is only one occasion of the restless movements of _____ on this planet.
2. Strangely most of the _____ immigrants did so because they did not like the country they came from.
3. Four of the _____ colonies in North America owed their origins to trading companies.
4. Rhode Island and Connecticut and New Hampshire sprang directly from _____ congregations.
5. Indentured _____ would be the tens of thousands who borrowed money for their passage and then worked it off once they got here.
6. Men, women and children would be _____ off the streets of London and brought here.
7. By the beginning of the American Revolution this number would blow up to over half a _____ African slaves; and in the South the slaves were nearly equal or exceeded the number of whites.
8. We do know today there are over 570 registered _____ populations and another 300 plus that are not registered.
9. This idea of healing from historical trauma is _____ and in large part comes from understanding history.
10. It really takes _____ _____ _____ to see the world as it existed at that time period in the eyes of those who lived in it.
11. Since 1215, the _____ had been slowly moving towards constitutionalism.
12. You had to be _____ to carve out a place in this world or you would literally die, but at the same time you didn't have anyone controlling your life or destiny.
13. This would include self-government, self-mastery, _____, duty, personal responsibility and honor.
14. A young Alexander _____ from Barbados would say, "The sacred rights of mankind are not to be rummaged from among old parchments or musty records, they were written as a sunbeam in the whole volume of human destiny by the hand of _____ itself and can never be erased or obscured by mortal power.”

15. He's a native born Anglo-American, born and raised in the backwoods of _____ and living basically that unsupervised life.
16. Ultimately he finds his place in _____ and finds himself involved with the infamous stamp taxes.
17. Basically the Stamp Act because _____ to enforce and that was repealed in 1766.
18. He gave it in _____ of 1775 at the second of five Virginia conventions.
19. Henry finished this speech with this now famous phrase, “Give me _____ or give me death.”
20. Liberty comes the Latin word “libertas”; it means “_____” and “unrestricted, release from constraint.”
21. He shows a considerable amount of _____ for an audience that he knows is probably going to disagree with him.
22. He says this: ignore everything the British _____ and pay attention to what the British _____.
23. “I have but one lamp by which my feet are guided, and that is the lamp of _____.”
24. “Suffer not yourselves to be betrayed with a _____.”
25. We're getting ready to be _____; look at what they are doing.
26. “They are meant for _____; they can be meant for no other.”
27. “We have petitioned, we have remonstrated, we have _____, we have prostrated ourselves before the throne...”
28. It had the most deadly technology; it had the _____ armies, and it was the _____ funded military in the world.
29. “The _____, sir, is not to the strong alone; it is to the vigilant, the active, the brave.”
30. He's basically going to make this argument: _____ is on our side; we have the moral high ground.
31. There's a lot of sound devices here: repetition, _____, assonance, consonance.
32. “Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be _____ at the price of chains and slavery?”
33. Usually we would call this an either/or _____ or a false dilemma.